Wesley Center Location Map

By Bus from Shibuya Station:

From the East Exit of the station, go to bus stand #51 and take Bus #01 for Shimbashi. Get off at the first stop: Aoyama Chutobu Mae. Stepping off the bus, turn right and walk straight ahead up a slight incline. You will pass 3 small streets on your left. Stop when you come to the first traffic light. Roppongi dori is on your right. As a landmark you will see Eneos Gas Station on the corner across the street; however, you do not cross but turn left.

Wesley Center is the 2nd building on the right of the road. It is 11 stories high, the first 3 floors are light brown with the top floors gray. There is a “Wesley Center” sign in front of the building.

By Subway from Omotesando Station

Exit B1 or B3 (B3 has an elevator and escalator to the street level):

Out of the exit walk straight down Aoyama dori to the corner. Turn left onto Kotto dori (Max Mara is on that corner). Walk straight down; at the 4th traffic light, turn right and walk straight ahead. Wesley Center is the 2nd building on the left directly across from the Triangle Building. The building is 11 stories high, the first 3 floors are light brown and gray on the top floors. There is a “Wesley Center” sign in front of the building.

Exit A5:

Turn right out of the exit onto Omotesando dori, walking straight down you will pass Prada on the right. This is in the direction of Nezu Museum. Keep walking straight; at the second traffic light turn right (Figaro restaurant in on this corner). Walk to the end of the street where it meets Kotto dori. Go across the street and turn left. Walk to the next traffic light, turn right. Wesley Center is the 2nd building on the left directly across from the Triangle Building. The building is 11 stories high, the first 3 floors are light brown and gray on the top floors. There is a “Wesley Center” sign in front of the building.

Two options coming from Narita Air Port to Wesley Center

1. Narita Express http://www.narita-airport.jp/en/access/train/index.html

The Express platform is on the B1 Floor of the airport.Be sure to take one which goes to Shibuya.
Get off the train at the Shibuya Station.Follow the signs from the Narita Express platform to the nearby NEW SOUTH EXIT. (The main part of Shibuya Station is FAR removed from this section with the Narita Express and a very long walk)Outside the ticket wicket, there is an escalator or go into Hotel Metz for an elevator to the ground floor.There are taxis waiting at the base of the escalator.Give the cab driver the address of Wesley Center:6-10-1 1 Minami Aoyama / Minato-ku Tokyo Tell the driver to go to Roppongi Dori and Komazawa Dori crossing.

You can get out of the cab at the stoplight of Mimami Aoyama Nana-chome crossing, (ENEOS Gasoline Station is on the right hand side of the expressway)

You will see a restaurant on your left “Future Seven”. Walk down the side walk until you see an opening and cross to the right hand side or walk to the right side of the road from the start.

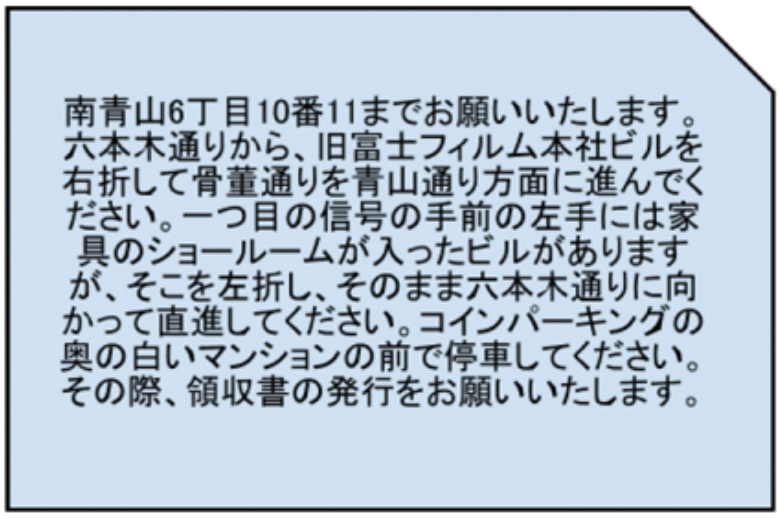

Wesley Center is the second building on the right of this unfinished road. There is sign in front. Light brown on the bottom 3 floors and off white for the rest of the building. There is a public parking next to the building.

The cab should be 710 yen and 1,000 yen at the most.

2. Airport Limusine http://www.limousinebus.co.jp/en/

Take the Airport Bus Limousine (orange-colored buses) service from Narita to Tokyo. Your destination in Tokyo is the ANA Intercontinental Hotel. It is the 1st of several stops your bus will make. It will be announced, anyhow. Tickets for the Airport Limousine are available from their sales counters at the arrival area. One-way ticket costs 3,000 Yen. Also, ask for street and subway maps at the sales counter.

From ANA Intercontinental Hotel, you can take a taxi to Minami Aoyama. The trip probably will take about 10 minutes, costing about 1,200 Yen. Attached to this e-mail is a direction written in Japanese that you can hand to the taxi driver in case he is not able to speak in English. There is no tipping needed or expected in Tokyo for services rendered to you.

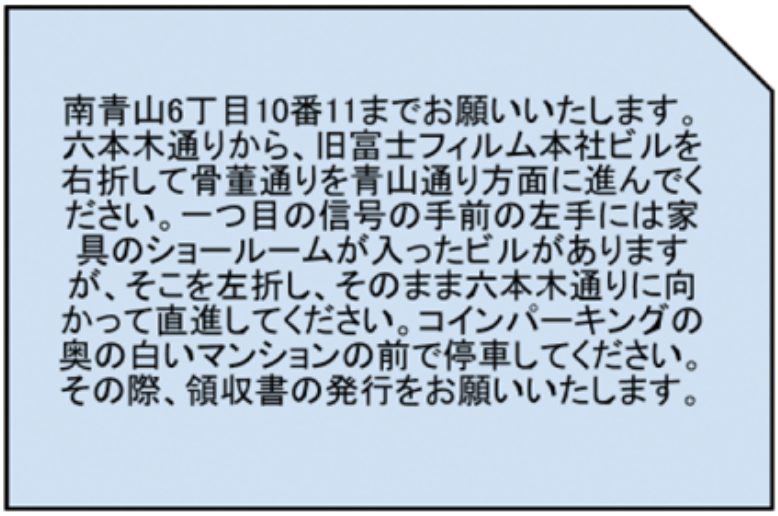

Access from Haneda

1. Airport Liousine

The bus stops are on ground floor at both terminal 1 and 2. Go to the bus terminal wait at the bus stop #5 with your tickets. Tickets are available at the vending machine in the bus terminal area.
http://www.limousinebus.co.jp/en/bus_services/haneda/akasaka.html

Take a bus for Akasaka Area and get off at ANA Intercontinental Hotel.
From ANA Intercontinental Hotel, you can take a taxi to Minami Aoyama. The trip probably will take about 10 minutes, costing about 1,200 Yen. Attached to this e-mail is a direction written in Japanese that you can hand to the taxi driver in case he is not able to speak in English. There is no tipping needed or expected in Tokyo for services rendered to you.

2. Airport Limusine

The bus stops are on ground floor at both terminal 1 and 2. Go to the bus terminal wait at the bus stop #5 with your tickets. Tickets are available at the vending machine in the bus terminal area.
http://www.limousinebus.co.jp/en/bus_services/haneda/akasaka.html

Take a bus for Akasaka Area and get off at ANA Intercontinental Hotel.
From ANA Intercontinental Hotel, you can take a taxi to Minami Aoyama. The trip probably will take about 10 minutes, costing about 1,200 Yen. Attached to this e-mail is a direction written in Japanese that you can hand to the taxi driver in case he is not able to speak in English. There is no tipping needed or expected in Tokyo for services rendered to you.

